COMING HOME TO ROOST.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—Carlisle's speech in favor of free coinage when he was Senator is giving him more trouble than any other that ever he made.

TAKE NOTICE.

Chicago Tribune.—Let it be understood once and for all that any attempt to bottle up the Hon. Bill Springer at this crisis will result in a violent explosion.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Chicago Mail.—We are much concerned about the Hon. Bourke Cockran. We would know where he is at and what in the thunder put him there, if he is there? Also, why.

RATIO OF SILVER SENATORS.

Chicago Tribune.—The silver states, so-called, cast 457,000 votes in the late election. They have eighteen United States Senators. New York casts 1,300,000 votes. It has two Senators.

HABIT CONQUERED ONCE.

Boston Journal.—It must have been hard for Mr. Holman, when another name than his was read at the head of the Committee on Appropriations, to refrain from arising solemnly and saying, "I object."

'T WAS EVER THUS.

Chicago Inter Ocean.—Democratic organs are pleading with Democrats all over the land to "write and telegraph Congressmen to stop talking and act." It is a pitiful case. Republicans stand ready to vote.

PROOF POSITIVE.

New York Press.—Headman Maxwell has removed a Postmaster at West Milton, Pa., who received his appointment from Andrew Jackson and has filled the office ever since. Another proof that this is not a Jacksonian Democratic Administration.

A WOOL PULLER.

Chicago Inter Ocean.—Larry Neal can buy a big lot of wool to pull over the eyes of his Ohio voters this year for a very small sum of money. But Larry won't likely lug in his wool argument in connection with his $1 25 wheat.

A GOLDEN CHANCE LOST.

Louisville Courier-Journal.—That was an ill timed burst of applause in the Senate which snuffed Senator Peffer into silence when he had arisen and remarked: "I am inclined to think." There are some opportunities which never come twice in a lifetime.

A HOME VIEW.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—The Hon. Francis M. McKim is a fit person to echo in the Senate the ignorant clamor of the yahoos against National banks. A billy goat's knowledge of astronomy is scientific and accurate compared with Cockrell's knowledge of the National banking system.

WHY THE MILLS SHUT DOWN.

New York Press.—That part of the Hon. Thomas B. Reed's speech in which he explained that the Sherman Law was not alone responsible for our present condition should be read and re-read. The point brought out is not particularly a new one, but it may be termed a central element that must not be lost sight of, because it will be the next burning question the country will have to face after the repeal of the Sherman Law. Says Mr. Reed:

When mills shut down they shut down because they must ascertain by Democratic legislation what the basis of their future manufacture is to be. If their basis is to be competition with foreign countries upon less favorable terms they will be obliged to meet those less favorable terms by reducing the cost of manufacture themselves. The cost of manufacture, of the finest kinds especially, is largely in the pay which is given to laboring men. As the gentleman from Mississippi (Catchings) has very candidly said, the wages of labor have been steadily rising in this country until they have reached a point unexampled in the history of the world up to this time.

And under a Democratic Administration with a so-called "Tariff reform" policy wages will be certainly decline. The question of wages is all there is of Tariff question. Time and time again The Press has pointed out that with European rates of wages the manufacturers of the United States fear no foreign competition. We have honestly and earnestly labored in season and out to instill this one essential fact into the minds of our wage earning voters. The Press fears it is plainer to most minds now. But it is too late.

PUBLIC LEADER

SECOND YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1893.

ONE CENT.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

Misses Maggie and Lydia Childs are visiting in Ripley.

Mrs. Henry Smith, Jr., left this morning for the World's Fair.

Miss Mary J. Boyer is visiting her aunt, Mrs. D. R. Purdon, in Ripley and attending the fair this week.

Mrs. William Supplee of the Fifth Ward is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Horrocks, at Ashland.

Miss Iva Bridges and Miss Ola Wheeler have returned from a visit to Decatur, Ill., and other Western cities.

Miss Ella B. Metcalf, after taking in the wonders of the World's Fair with friends, will return home this week.

Mrs. J. B. Noyes and daughters, Gertrude and Mary, have returned home after a very pleasant sojourn at Chicago and the World's Fair.

Ashland News.—Miss Katie Dalton, a pretty little Miss of Mayville, is the guest of her cousin, Will Nicholson, and family on Front avenue.

C. M. Fleming, Jr., H. Andrews and wife, Miss Louie Andrews, Miss Lizzie S. Andrews, Miss Chottie Ashton, Miss Rebecca Ashton, Mrs. Kate Dudley and Miss Anna Simms, all of Flemingsburg, are at the World's Fair.

THAT CHANGE OF BABIES.

Last fall up at the mill. The boys all talked of a "change." The mill was running all right. But we wanted—well, a "change." Somehow we weren't satisfied. And to tell you the mortal truth, We were tired of Baby McKee. And hungered for Baby Ruth.

So we howled for Tariff reform. And we got old Grover in. Then waited for March the fourth. For the glorious "change" to begin. The fourth of March came round. And I tell you the naked truth, We bounced out Baby McKee. And we slapped in Baby Ruth.

Well, the "change" came on with a rush. With the closing of mills and banks. As an "object lesson" for cranks. But our mill for a while held out. Yet I tell you the honest truth, We didn't like Baby McKee. Though we doubted Baby Ruth.

Then the "change" came nearer to us—The orders didn't come in. The dealers were buying close. And money was tight as sin. So last week the mill shut down. And I tell you the mortal truth, That Baby McKee was a nussent. Are we noodled by Baby Ruth?

By this train passengers are sure of securing comfortable seats and avoiding expense of Pullman sleeper.

Every one who has taken this train is delighted with it, as it reaches Chicago at a good bedtime, and one can start out to the World's Fair early the next morning, refreshed by a good night's sleep.

SUCIDED.

Such Was the Fate of S. Wood Bramel.

S. Wood Bramel of near Mt. Gilead took a dose of morphine with suicidal intent and died yesterday about noon.

Mr. Bramel, it is said, had been drinking heavily for several days and it is probable that the rash act was the culmination of despondency superinduced by the excessive use of liquor.

Mr. Bramel is well known in this city, having at one time been engaged in the saloon business on East Second street.

He is a son of Al Bramel, and leaves a wife and three children.

The remains will be interred in the Mason County Cemetery this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Sixth Ward Readers.

Harry Graham is no longer connected with THE LEDGER and has no authority whatever to collect for subscriptions. Isaac Hoops will hereafter deliver the paper and is authorized to make all collections.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 6th, 1893.—The Stockton Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn.—Gentlemen: It gives me exceeding pleasure to speak of your Antiseptic, as I consider it something wonderful in the way of medicine. My old servant Albert, who is 72 years old, was very sick with pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble and dropsy. I called in my family physician and gave him every attention, but the doctor finally told me there was no hope, and the only thing that could be done was to make him comfortable until the end. At this point I decided to give him Stockton's Antiseptic, as it seemed to be performing almost miracles for others. It was given in regular doses every three hours and the fever began to decrease from the first dose, and a decided improvement was noticed the first day. In three days he was sitting up and in a week he was back at his work as usual, and is regaining his strength very fast. I conscientiously believe it saved the old man's life. Respectfully yours, FRANK SEABRIGHT, No. 5 Noel Block.

Death of Mrs. Jane Forman.

Mrs. Jane Forman, widow of the late Joseph Forman, died at her home in Washington early yesterday morning.

She had been an invalid for years—helpless almost in mind and body. She had been a devoted Christian woman all her life and until overtaken by disease her whole existence was characterized by noble actions.

Mrs. Forman was 77 years of age. Her surviving family consists of three sons and three daughters, the latter living at home. Her husband has been dead about five years. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late home, Interment at Washington.

END OF THE WORLD.

A Celebrated Astronomer Describes How It Will Take Place.

Camille Flammarion, the celebrated French astronomer, draws this graphic word-picture of the death of our earth:

"According to all probability, notwithstanding all the circumstances that threaten it, our planet will die, not of an accident, but a natural death. That death will be the consequence of the extinction of the sun in twenty million years or more—perhaps thirty—since its condensation at a relatively moderate rate will give it, on the one hand, seventeen million years of existence, while on the other hand the inevitable fall of meteors into the sun may double this number. If you suppose the duration of the sun to be prolonged to forty million years, it is still inconceivable that the radiation from the sun cools it, and that the temperature of all bodies tends to an equilibrium.

"The day will come when the sun will be extinct. Then the earth and all the other planets of our system will cease to be the abode of life. They will be erased from the Great Book and will revolve as black cinders around the extinguished sun. Will these planets continue to exist even then? Yes, probably, in the case of Jupiter, and perhaps Saturn. No, beyond a doubt, as to the small bodies, such as the earth, Venus, Mars, Mercury and the moon. Already the moon appears to have preceded us toward the final desert. Mars is much further advanced than the earth toward the same destiny. Venus, younger than we, will doubtless survive us.

"These little worlds lose their elements of vitality much faster than the sun loses its heat. From century to century, from year to year, from day to day, from hour to hour, the surface of the earth is transformed. On the one hand, the continents are crumbling away and becoming covered by the sea, which insensibly and by very slow degrees tends to invade and submerge the entire globe; on the other hand, the amount of water on the surface of the globe is diminishing. A careful and reasonable calculation shows that by the action of erosion alone all the land on our planet will be covered by water in ten million years."

THE eight-year-old daughter of Dan Mahar, who lives in the Murphysville Precinct, died last night at 12 o'clock of diphtheria. The funeral will occur to-day at 2 o'clock at the Washington Cemetery.

Important Change of Time.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

The Fall River Cloth Market in a Deplorable Condition.

A special from Fall River, Mass.,—the great cloth making-center of the world,—says the cloth market is at a standstill, and the situation is worse than it was a week ago. There is no demand to speak of. The Board of Trade's action in asking for a repeal of the purchase clause in the Sherman Act is the only public move that has been made to indicate the present feelings of manufacturers; those of them who will talk say they think the Sherman Act has but very little to do with the state of their business.

The great bugbear is the uncertainty regarding the Tariff, and, in order to meet that, they are making preparations to reduce wages. The treasurers whose mills are shut down say that when the mills resume they must do so with the expectation of piling up goods on a reduced Tariff basis. The only place that mills can economize quickly is on the pay-roll, and they propose a cut that shall affect every employee downward. When it is brought into practice it will affect the production of 10,000,000 spindles and 250,000 looms in New England. If a reduction is not borne, a protracted shutdown is the only alternative left to the owners of the mills.

Take Good Care of the Children.

POINTVILLE, BURLINGTON COUNTY, N. J., July 17, 1893.—Our baby, now fourteen months old, was taken with every symptom of cholera infantum. I commenced using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and after the first few doses he was relieved, and at this writing is as well as ever. I feel that I cannot speak too highly in its praise.
